

Howard Astronomical League

Columbia, Maryland -- <http://howardastro.org>

The Howard Astronomical League

(HAL) is a non-profit group of amateur astronomers dedicated to enjoying and sharing the wonders of the infinite universe. HAL's mission is to support astronomy and space science education. Most of HAL's activities are completely open to the public, so come on out and join us for our classes, our monthly meetings, our public education and outreach events, and especially our starparties.

When is HAL's next event?

Find out by checking HAL's Calendar of Events:

<http://www.howardastro.org/calendar.php>

Star Parties at Alpha Ridge Park:

One Saturday each month from March-Nov a public star party is held at dusk. Check the HAL calendar for dates and for driving directions to Alpha Ridge Park near Marriottsville, MD.

Monthly Meetings Third Thursday of each month, 7:30pm - 9:30pm, in the new Robinson Nature Center on Cedar Lane in Columbia,MD.

<http://www.howardastro.org/meetings.php>

Outreach Events

HAL occasionally visits a different Howard County Library Branches. We also hold special events at our Alpha Ridge Park location. Check the website for the dates and locations:

<http://howardastro.org/starparties.php>

Join our E-Mail Group, it's FREE!

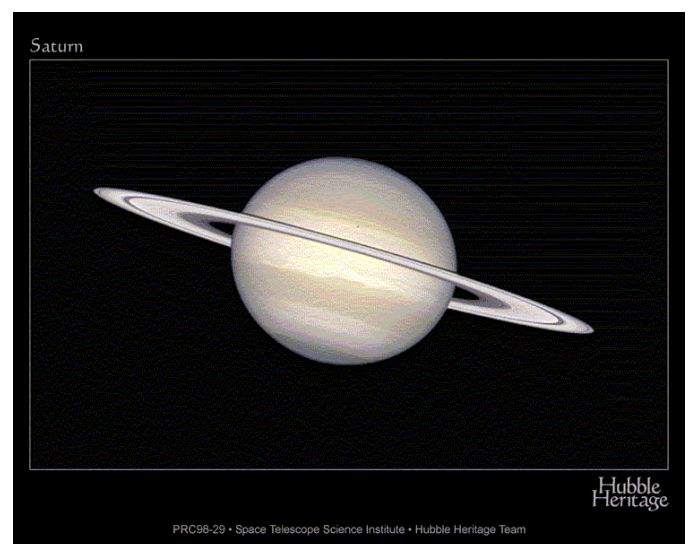

Saw something unusual in the sky last night? Have a question about that old telescope you keep in your basement? Wondering when the best time to view Saturn will be? When can you see the Space Station fly overhead? Ask your local group of amateur astronomers! To join, send a blank email to the following address:

howardastro-subscribe@yahoogroups.com

Want to become a HAL member?

Printable membership applications are on the website, completed applications can be mailed in or brought to monthly meetings, or you can join and pay right on the HAL website:

<http://www.howardastro.org/membership.php>

A Multiverse of Possibilities